DAMAGED BY FIRE

Guests in Baltimore Hotel Reserved by Candidate, Have Narrow Escapes.

UNDERWOOD'S CAMP.

BALTIMORE, May 26.-The Eutaw House, at Baltimore and Eutaw streets, the oldest hotel in Baltimore, was badly damaged last night by fire, which start-ed in the basement from an explosion of unknown origin. Much of the loss was caused by the deluge of water poured into the structure, a five-story brick building, from practically the full strength of the fire department.

All the guests in the house at the time escaped in safety, as did the employes, but several of the former were obliged to come down on the fire-escapes, because of the smoke which filled the cor-

It required two hours of stubborn fighting by the firemen to extinguish the flames, and at one time it looked as though the entire building

Practically the entire hotel had been reserved for the use of the Oscar W. Underwood forces during the Democratic national convention, including the Underwood marching club of Birmingham, Ala., and the Alabama delegation to the convention to the convention. A hat company, occupying a store on the first floor, sustained a loss of $15,000 to its stock by water.

The damage to furniture in the hotel is estimated at $50,000, and to the building at $25,000. Repairs to the building cannot be made in time for the Democratic convention, and it was said that the Underwood forces will be located among the other hotels.

Lieut. Thomas De Witt Milling and Lieut. Leighton W Hazelhurst, in the old Wright machine late yesterday afternoon landed in a field of old stumps and high grass. The engine of the biplane stopped while they were flying low and he was forced to descend. With the aid of twenty-five enlisted men, the machine was picked up and lifted over the rough places to a point where it could be flown back to the Government reservation.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25,—The pretty romance of a double wedding which the exigencies of political dis-turbances in Mexico could not interrupt was completed last night at Trin-ity church, when Rev. F. W. Clampett simultaneously united two young offi-cers of Uncie Sam's navy to two belles from Washington.

The young women arrived here yes-terday from the East under the chaperonage of an aunt, rather than post-pone their weddings until their flances could obtain leaves of absence. The couples are Assistant Paymaster Arthur

Middleton, who married Miss Olive India Lewis, and Ensign Edwin Guthric,

The patrol wagon in which the first load of prisoners was carted to the police station was showered with missiles. In self-defense the police were obliged to discharge their revolvers, although no one was hit by the bullets. Several revolvers in the crowd of rioters barked in answer to the fusilade of the police, but also without effect.

A cordon of reserve officers was immediately thrown about the police station, and extra men were stationed in the district where the fighting started. Those who were arrested, when asked their nationality, all answered "I. W. W.," refusing to tell where they were born. The station cells and streets about the station echoed all night with the songs of the "I. W. W." made familiar during the big strike.

The trouble started at Haverhill and Union streets, when a new saloon after its first day's business closed its doors for the night, emptying into the street fully 200 foreigners. In a short time several gang fights had started. Officers Kline and Carey arrested two of the fighters and started them to a patrol box, when the mob surged down on the police and their prisoners, and the battle was on. Miss Lewis and Miss Field
